FOR SALE

Green corn was selling in the local markets Monday at 40 and 45 cents per dozen and a short supply at that. During the 20 and better temperature of Monday afternoon one of the local weather sharps had occasion to call complimentary notice Mr. Thomas of Norwich, who during the exceptionally cold, early season, predicted with unerring precision a hot summer. The local man says "That Norwich fellow knew what he was talking about—and he did!"
The vital statistics for the town of Groton for June show five marriages: Walter M. Cowan and Annie M. Robertson, Michael Belette and Irene L. Symington, Henry Bledsoe and Clifton J. Culver, Albert E. Woodman and Evelyn S. Johnson.
There were twelve births: Walter Skiba, Charles J. Murren, Thana Bryant, Ernest Leadora Dayon, Clara May Jeffers.
Five deaths are recorded: Mary M. Dawley, age 89, nascent dilation of the heart; John H. Henson, 82, angina pectoris; Martha Weaver, 55, chronic nephritis; Elizabeth A. Smith, 61, stroke; Clara Galinas, 15, typhoid.

JEWETT CITY

Sunday, when an investigation was made by a number of local antiquarians, it was definitely discovered and is so authentically reported, that mermaids do live at that famous and well known summer resort, Beach Pond, near Jewett City. The mermaid is only ten miles from Jewett City. The automobile will land one in its picturesque borders in half an hour. Several local people have been seen and summer shacks there where they enjoy quiet and restful calm of this beauty spot of nature to the full. But, now that the added charm of mermaids being discovered there has been proven it has become more attractive than ever. The Beach Pond mermaids are not like the mythological beings which lurked sailors to their death off the coast of Brittany. If they are seen at all, it is by the merest fortune. In Hunt's Popular Romances of the West of England, a mermaid falls in love with a man, lives with him as his lawful wife for a time. And then, some compact being unwillingly or intentionally broken by him, she departs to her true home in the sea.
Attractive souvenir post cards are being received in town from William Driscoll and O. F. Miller, from the Grand Canyon, Arizona.
Edmond Jodion had as his guests on an automobile trip to Mount Tom, Sunday, Sol Paquette, Royal Gill, Udergill (Bud) Jodion, William Hall and Homer Gagnon. The trip was over 200 miles and, although of all grades, and auto accommodations were excellent.
